Museums are often perceived as solid institutions with a slow adjustment to change. What is the future of museums in a fast-changing world of economic uncertainty, social disruption, health challenges and climate change? What is the essence that should define us now? What lessons have we learned from the needs of the communities we claim to serve and how can we better adapt to shift our priorities in a faster and efficient way?

ICOM Members: Free to attend, Non-Members: $20 registration fee. The recordings are available on our website here for members online. Please make sure you are logged in.
